Use Your Ship Experience and Help Someone Else

Have you ever thought about how you can give back to Shippensburg University? There is a simple way that can help current students and other alumni and only takes minimal time - sign up to be a career mentor. A career mentor can offer advice to current students about your major and your experiences at Ship. You can sign up to speak in classes or to student organizations, critique resumes, offer advice or simply talk about your SHIP experience and what your major was. Students contact you via email so you can give as much or as little as you have time for. Go to www.collegecentral.com/ship and create a mentoring profile. The passcode you need is Shipconnect. Contact alumni@ship.edu with any questions.
