Living the Suite Life

New Student Housing at Ship

NOW OPEN! Presidents Hall, McLean Hall II, & Seavers Hall

Living on campus is an important part of your total college experience. New suite-style housing is here!

Shippensburg University is replacing all of its residence halls with new housing designed for comfort, convenience, and safety. The first phase of the three-phase construction project is complete and Presidents Hall, Seavers Hall, and McLean II Hall are open for students. Three more will open in summer 2014.

The four-story buildings feature suite-style living with bathrooms shared by no more than two students. Air conditioning, carpeting, and living spaces will make you feel right at home. Choose from four options at different price points.

Because your learning experience is our primary mission, the new student housing incorporates multipurpose programming areas and generous study and social lounges designed to enhance your academic and personal success.

Returning students will select suites in February. Instructions are online at: www.ship.edu/Housing/Housing_Selection/New_Living_Learning_Suites/

New students can select suites in April and May. Go to: www.ship.edu/Housing/New_Student_Housing_Instructions/

Common areas include:

- Social lounges
- Student lounges
- Multipurpose meeting rooms
- Entertainment room
- Common kitchens
- Vending areas
- Laundry facilities on each floor
- Reception/conference areas with attached managerial offices.
