SU Honors Newsletter Wins National Award

The Shippensburg University Honors Program has received an award in the 2013 national Honors newsletter contest, sponsored by the National Collegiate Honors Council (NCHC), the national professional organization of Honors Programs and Colleges. The SU Honors newsletter, The Honors Chronicle, won first place in the electronic, student-published newsletter category.

Megan Fick and Hannah B, the student editor of The Honors Chronicle, and Hannah is accepting the award on behalf of the SU Honors Program. The award will be presented at the annual NCHC Conference in New Orleans, LA on November 6, 2013. "I am very excited that the Honors Chronicle took first place in the national contest," said Fick. "This recognition reflects all the hard work Hannah, the media committee, and I put into each issue we publish."

The nation-wide competition is open to all Honors Programs and Colleges affiliated with NCHC. Awards were also presented in print and staff-published newsletter categories. The recipients of the awards are selected by NCHC Publications Board.

The Honors Program at Shippensburg University provides an outstanding undergraduate experience that emphasizes scholarship, leadership, and service. The program is made up of 175 students who are chosen based on academic achievement, intellectual curiosity, and evidence of leadership and civic engagement. Students benefit from small classes, outstanding instruction, exciting research, study abroad, and internship opportunities, and special social and cultural activities.
