Our Approach to Education

Are you looking for an education that prepares you with the necessary knowledge gained in the classroom and combines it with real-world out of class experiences?

At Ship, it's not just about what happens in the classroom. We're committed to personalizing your SHIP EXPERIENCE by helping our students develop their utmost intellectual, personal, and social capabilities by providing a supportive environment with many out-of-class opportunities. Service learning projects, internships, and student-faculty research are just a few of our Ship experiences.

Shippensburg, Pennsylvania — a safe, friendly place to live!

Located in south-central Pennsylvania, the university shares a name with its hometown. Founded in 1871 as the Cumberland Valley State Normal School, Shippensburg University is rich in history and has a tradition of excellence. Our campus is big enough to provide you with top-notch faculty and facilities but small enough so you will be known for yourself and your individual strengths.

Shippensburg has almost everything you could ask for in a college town. When class is in session, Shippensburg University is home to just over 8,500 undergraduate and graduate students, 2,500 of whom reside on campus.

Sports and cultural events are among the many activities thriving in Shippensburg where full-time residents nearly equal the overall student population.

MENTORSHIP

From the beginning of their studies to graduation, our students are mentored by dedicated faculty. Mentorship goes beyond advising. I particularly enjoy having lunch with my advisees to discuss topics pertaining to their professional life. This interaction outside of the classroom creates a more effective rapport between the teacher and the student."

Modern Languages Chair*

"I love my Jazz Ensemble class. I longed to use my originality by taking music class when I entered the university but there were no music classes in my home university. As a piano player, being at Shippensburg University has allowed me to do what I love, making beautiful harmony with other musical players. I'm still learning to play piano but I'm trying my best and enjoying it!"

"The people at SHIP are great! Wherever you go on campus you either know someone or people are friendly enough where you can meet new people. The soccer team has given a great network of friends as well. I would definitely recommend SHIP! The place as a whole is not massive so you can feel comfortable and relaxed."

Dedicated faculty and staff

At Ship, our faculty and staff are dedicated to your success. Better than ninety-percent of our faculty members hold the highest degree in their respective fields, and through their expertise, you will be both challenged and stimulated for future growth and success.

Shippensburg University has a student to faculty ratio of 20:1 and an average undergraduate class size of 27. The average class size for graduate study is 15. This means that your professors will be able to give you the personal attention that you should expect from an American education. You will also have an academic advisor—typically a professor in your selected major—who will help you plan out your educational path.

LEADERSHIP

I have found Shippensburg University to be the hallmark of quality in providing accredited academic programs at an incredible value. At ship, student success is the central focus of what we do. We give our students many opportunities ranging from internship and joint student/faculty research to put theories in practice, to participating in many student organizations and international exchange programs to prepare them to excel as principled leaders and professionals in a highly competitive global environment.”

Dr. John Kooti, Dean of the John L. Grove College of Business

Residential Living Options

We believe that residential living with other American students is an essential part of experiencing the American culture. You won't need to worry about finding a place to live because Ship guarantees undergraduate first-year students a room in one of our nine residence halls.

All of our residence halls host both males and females separated by wing or by floor. We offer several different types of living arrangements which include: single rooms, double rooms and two suite-style apartments that house 4-6 residents. You will need to be an accepted and confirmed undergraduate student with a paid housing deposit to reside on campus.

Off campus housing is available to upper-level undergraduate students as well as graduate students.

New four-story residence halls will feature suite-style living with bathrooms shared by no more than two students. Air conditioning, carpeting, and living spaces will make you feel right at home.

HOUSING: Ship offers 9 co-ed student housing facilities. Three new residence halls with suite-style living open in Spring 2013. They feature 1 bathroom for every 2 residents. The remaining 6 residence halls have rooms with double occupancy. Ship plans to replace these halls with suite-style living by Summer 2015. Stone Ridge

Computer and Internet Access

Computer access is never an issue at Shippensburg University because there are over 10 computer labs located across campus, two 24-hour computer labs and laptops available for daily use in our library. Academic and Administrative buildings have wireless accessibility and each residence hall room is wired for Ethernet connection.

Commons offers apartment-style living for two, four, or six students. All residence halls have sprinkler systems and key-card entry system.

ENJOY EVERY SEASON AT SHIP!

Our campus is always very beautiful; the warm breezes of fall keep students outside playing Frisbee, sand volleyball, and enjoying barbecue grilled foods. In autumn, we experience vibrant and colorful views of the changing leaves in the groves of trees on campus and in vistas of the mountain ranges to our north and south. In the winter, it does snow here so be sure to pack accordingly! Our students have a blast making snowmen, sleigh-riding on campus or having snow-ball fights. When spring comes around our students are back at it by going hiking, picnicking or taking part as spectators in RaiderNation at one of our spring sporting events. Every season is enjoyable at Ship!
