

College of Arts and Sciences
Department of Sociology/Anthropology
Career Advising Guide

Major	Skills/Attributes Associated	*Related Occupations	Related Extracurricular Activities	Additional Sources of Information
Sociology B.A.	good in stressful situations appreciation of diversity interest in human problems resourceful integrity helpfulness likes to read and do research proficient in interpersonal communication knowledge of community resources interest in causes of human behavior inquisitive	Teaching Business Executive Demographer Gerontologist Market Research Analyst Case Worker Public Relations Manager Urban Planner Counselor Curator Researcher Social Security Personnel Manager Probation Officer Recreation Worker Human Service Worker	T.O.U.C.H. x1710 Sociology/Anthropology Club x1247	American Sociological Assn. 1771 N. Street N.W. Washington D.C. 20036 Dr. Walter Konetschni x1247 Grove Hall 430

Sociology is the study of social life and focuses on the interaction between humans, groups and institutions. It ranges from the study of family units in primitive cultures to research of large institutions in industrialized nations. Among specialties in the field are criminology, social psychology, gerontology, race relations, cultural traditions and social change.

Entering Salary: $18,000 - $28,000 (Varies extensively by position) * A Bachelor's or Master's degree in sociology would be useful in pursuing these occupations.