INTRODUCTION

The mission of SU Theatre Arts Camp is to provide a nurturing environment where young children can learn about the theatre. Research also demonstrates that children involved in the arts improve creativity, self-confidence, problem-solving, memory, communication, commitment, collaboration, and focus. Additionally, such experience promotes a lifelong love and appreciation of the arts. Campers will enjoy discovering the stage and rehearsing a play selected especially for them. Children will encounter acting, theatre games, line memorization, and theatrical movement. A final performance for family and friends will conclude a fun-filled week.

QUALIFICATIONS

Participants need no prior experience on stage to be an excellent candidate for this camp. The camp is designed to encourage blossoming newcomers. Applicants must be entering grades 3 – 6 to qualify for this camp. Camp participants also must be able to provide their own transportation to and from the Tuscarora Laboratory Space located on the campus of Shippensburg University.

ABOUT THE DIRECTORS

Gretchen Leitner is a children’s theatre specialist. She also is an instructor and guest artist at Shippensburg University. Dr. Paul Leitner has been a theatre arts professor for over twenty years at Shippensburg University.

The Leitners co-created The Little Princess Playhouse Children’s Theatre Program at Shippensburg University for nine seasons. Their productions included: Cinderella, Beauty and the Beast, Snow White, and many other children’s favorites. Currently, the Leitners are producing children’s theatre in collaboration with the Grace B. Luhrs Elementary School. In November, they produced Ebby’s Thanksgiving and in the spring Lost in the Twilight Zone. They also directed the musical The Wizard of Oz at Shippensburg Area Middle School.

This SU camp is part of the Leitners’ personal effort to enhance elementary education in the region through exposure to live theatre.
