

CAREERS IN DIPLOMACY

TUESDAY, APRIL 20

3:30PM • SHIP.ZOOM.US/J/93705147144

Curious about a career in diplomacy? Join Diplomat in Residence for NY Metro Danielle Harms to learn about career and student opportunities with the US Department of State. Ms. Harms has been a career member of the US Foreign Service for more than eighteen years and will share some of her own experiences from around the globe.

Danielle Harms is a proud native of State College, Pennsylvania. She has served overseas at US Embassies as Deputy Public Affairs Officer in Sweden, Cultural Affairs Officer in Afghanistan, Political Officer in Bosnia and Herzegovina, and Consular Chief in Iceland. In addition to her current role as Diplomat in Residence, she has held domestic assignments at the State Department including service as Senior Advisor to the Office of Eastern European Affairs covering Ukraine, Belarus and Moldova.

Sponsored by the International Studies Program, Political Science Department, and Career, Mentoring, and Professional Development Center.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.
