

SHIPPENSBURG UNIVERSITY

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY (MS)

COURSES 100% ONLINE

The program emphasizes the application of psychological principles and methodologies to real world problem, engaging students to

- 1 enter a new career/profession,
- 2 prepare for doctoral study,
- 3 advance in their career.

The coursework offers a balance of theory, application, and methodological skill sets used in the workplace that will help you enrich your purposeful transformation.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- 100% online asynchronous courses, tailored to accommodate your schedule
- Frequent faculty-student interactions via Zoom
- Complete as quickly as one year studying full-time
- Enroll during any semester that works for you
- Affordable tuition, complete the program for less than $20k
- Graduate assistantships may be available
- Research that could lead to co-authoring with faculty
- Job placement assistance in diverse fields—recent graduates work as data scientists, program evaluators, survey researchers, marketing researchers, data analysts, behavior specialists, business analysts
- Areas of emphasis include: behavioral interventions, research and program evaluations, data science, advocacy, and public policy

The Department of Psychology at Shippensburg University offers a Master's degree in Applied Psychology (MAP). Shippensburg University was established in 1871 and continually evolves to meet workforce demands.

Scan the QR code, visit
SHIP.EDU/PSYCHOLOGY/GRADUATE,
or e-mail
GRADUATEADMISSIONS@SHIP.EDU
to learn more.

SHIPPENSBURG UNIVERSITY

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

SHIP.EDU